CHASA Sportskiet
CHASA Sport Shoot

Classification system for CHASA Sport shooters.

This is based on the USA NRA system as described in their Action Shooting rulebook.
It makes allowance for shooters to compete individually against competitors at their own level of competence within a competition.

Any member of any of the affiliated member associations may take part in this competition.
Shooters may also apply for Dedicated Sport Shooting Status when participating in this competition.
The shooting table is registered with SASSF – The South African Sport Shooting Federation and competitors may be able to obtain provincial and national colours for this sport.

Any member may take part in this shoot as a normal association member or as a dedicated sports shooter

The minimum requirement to apply for the Dedicated Sport Shooting Status is as follows.

- The member must have completed the CHASA proficiency practical and theoretical exam.
- The member must have taken part in at least two competitions prior to applying for dedicated status.
- If the above criteria are met, the member may apply for his or her Dedicated Sport Shooting Status.
- In order to keep the status, the member must take part in at least two shoots per year.
- It is also required to pay the annual SASSF fee that is set by SASSF from time to time.

Annual Cycle

- The year cycle is between 1 August of a year to 31 July of the next year.
- Acknowledgement of achievements will be announced annually at the September CHASA Board meeting.
- The member competes in the following year in the classification they ended in the last year

For the classification system to be effective the match is a standard table that can be shot at any range in the country that offers 200m.
The equipment or targets are of simple design which must be duplicated by all participating associations and used at all matches.
The Match is a series of 4 shoots, consisting of 5 shots each.

Each shoot total possible is 150 points, so the full total is a possible 600 points. All scores shot at association, provincial or national competitions must be forwarded to CHASA, who will compile and maintain classification records.

The classification Rules;

Classification	% of Grand Total	Points	Grand Total
High Master	99%	594 and above	600
Master	96-98.99%	576 to 593	600
Expert	90-95.99%	540 to 575	600
Sharp Shooter	80-89.99%	480 to 539	600
Marksman	Below 79.99%	Up to 479	600

Establishing a First Classification

A competitor will be officially classified by the association/CHASA when the total score for a minimum of 20 rounds has been posted. (1 competition)
The entry level for all first time competitors is Marksman.

Re- classification – Upwards
A competitor will automatically be re-classified after a maximum of 40 shots (2 competitions) to the level determined by the average of the 2 shoots.
Re-classification – Downwards
A competitor can request in writing to be re-classified downwards after 100 shots (5 competitions) to the level determined by the aggregate of the 5 shoots.
RE-CLASSIFICATION DOWNWARD MAY ONLY BE DONE AT THE END OF A YEAR CYCLE

Note.
If after re-classification downward, a competitor regains his original vacated level, he/she will not again be re-classified below the latter.

High Master, Master and Expert • For any class to come into consideration for recognition, a minimum of 6 participants per category per province per year cycle must have participated and meet the minimum requirements of at least two shoots

Patching of all paper targets on shoots 1, 2 and 3.

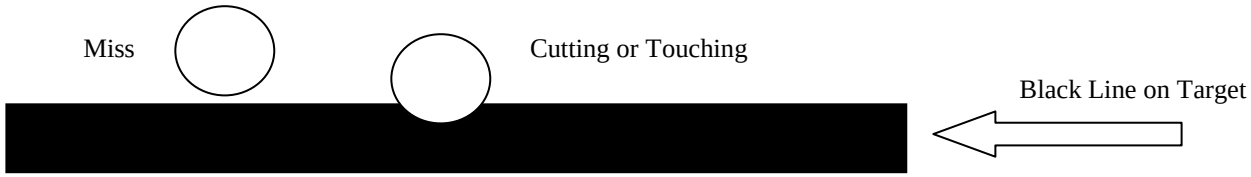
It is suggested that frosted cello tape or the clear patches available from CHASA be used to patch bullet holes to avoid target areas being obscured by patches, and also to try and prevent competitors from using a cluster of patches as an aiming point.
This method also allows for targets to be put up and not changed for every detail.

Rules:

1) Starting with the bolt closed/down is considered a safety infringement and will result in disqualification from that shoot.
2) Cheating or unsportsmanlike behavior – disqualification.
3) Shooting on a competitors target will result in no score for the shots so fired by the transgressor.
4) Extra shots fired on a competitors target in error by another competitor will be scored as follows;
    a. If the calibers are the same and the holes can not be differentiated, then the competitor benefits by the highest 5 scoring shots accruing to his score.
    b. If the calibers are different and can be determined as such by the scorer, then those shots do not count and the 5 shots fired by the individual are used for his/her score.
5) If a competitor through his own error fires more than the required number of shots, he will be scored the required number of hits of the lowest values.
6) Any shot cutting or touching a scoring line is given the higher value.
7) Any shots cutting or touching the outside of the animal line where the score on the inside of the line is minus will be scored as a minus.



8) Any shots fired over the time limit will incur a penalty equal to the highest score (30 points) per shot so fired.
9) Coaching is prohibited during a competition.
10) Unsafe or incompetent firearm handling – disqualification.
11) Standard range safety rules must not be infringed.

Decisions on Ties

If a tie score is posted by competitors in one of the shoots, the winner is decided as follows;

a) the person with the most “V-bulls” or highest scoring rings in that shoot is the winner, or,
b) if there is still a tie then the total overall number of “bulls” or highest scoring rings shot by the competitors in all the shoots determines the winner.

If a tie is posted over the entire match, then proceed as in B above, if there is still a tie, then the Match Director is to arrange a shootout on the plates (Shoot 4), reducing the time on each consecutive string by 15 seconds until a winner is determined.

Shoot Equipment.
As per rules in different categories.

Table of results
Each competitor must have his scores totalled to reflect his score out of 600 points.
It is of utmost importance to note the amount of V-Bulls as this is used to determine the winners in the event of a tie. Refer to Decisions on Ties above
An example score sheet is attached
